KnE Publishing Services

The gateway to global discoverability

KnE Publishing Services

Share your publications globally through our Open Access publishing platform www.knepublishing.com, the gateway to disseminate regional research in the form of journal articles and conference proceedings.

All material published on the KnE Publishing Platform is first subject to an internal screening process during which journals are evaluated against editorial and technical industry norms and conferences with the guidelines described in the Think.Check.Attend. initiative. Upon acceptance, the publishing process continues as follows:

Step 1: Submission

- ✓ Author submits manuscript through the journal or conference

Step 2: In-house screening

- ✓ Editorial content check
- ✓ Plagiarism check (iThenticate)

Step 3: Peer-review

- ✓ Peer-review by the editorial board or scientific committee
- ✓ Reviewer comments
- ✓ Author response
- ✓ Acceptance or rejection of manuscript

Step 4: Production

- ✓ Copyediting, formatting, typesetting
- ✓ Approval of galley proof (PDF format)
- ✓ Digital Object Identifier (DOI) generation
- ✓ Material conversion (PDF, full-text HTML, XML-JATS)

Step 5: Publication

- ✓ Articles/conference papers are published as Open Access under the CC BY license

Step 6: Evaluation & Indexing

- ✓ Submitted for evaluation by international indexing and discovery services such as Scopus, Web of Science and others

Advantages of the KnE Publishing Platform

Globalise your journals & conference proceedings

The KnE Publishing Platform raises the visibility and durability of your journals and conference proceedings by providing an electronic version permanently and freely accessible globally.

Publications on our platform become internationally visible instantly, giving you the potential to attract high-quality authors, editors and reviewers to your journals or attract more speakers, sponsors and attendees to your next conference. As a result, the KnE Publishing Platform allows you to build stronger academic links, thereby raising the reputation of your publication.

Boost your citations

People will only cite your work if they can find it! Today's researchers need their papers to be read and cited.

Every paper on the KnE Publishing Platform is assigned with its own unique Crossref Digital Object Identifier (DOI) that makes it easier to discover, share and cite by fellow researchers anytime and anywhere in the world.

International indexing

All hosted journals and conference proceedings are automatically indexed in Google Scholar and selected titles are submitted for evaluation by international indexing and discovery services including Scopus and Web of Science as well as others.

Publication ethics & International best practices

Knowledge E adheres to the Core Principles of the Committee On Publication Ethics (COPE).

As the initiator of the Think. Check. Attend. initiative (www.thinkcheckattend.org), Knowledge E ensures all conference proceedings published on its platform come from conferences fitting the guidelines stipulated in the initiative.
