AI Discovery

Precision Discovery for Modern Researchers

Traditional search requires users to know what to look for and how to ask for it. Results are returned, but guidance and context are often missing. Filters and facets add complexity, not clarity.

With Zendy's next-generation AI Discovery, search becomes an intelligent, guided experience. It understands intent, helping users find the right content faster and with greater confidence.

Zendy AI Discovery acts as a research partner, improves research quality and reduces time to find relevant content with a guided experience and systematic review by up to 80%*

Embedded directly into your library or platform, it drives 30–70% higher database usage and maximises ROI on your existing subscriptions — bringing smarter, more effective discovery to your users.
